HYAKEM 1980-81

CENTRAL WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Hyakem 1980-81
CENTRAL WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Ellensburg, Washington USA

Hyakem is a publication sponsored by University Relations, Board of Directors, Residence Hall Council, Associated Students of Central, and the Office of the President.

Editor—Nancy Newcomb

Advisor—Greg Kummer

Photographers—Debbie Stoele, Jo Cunningham, Craig Troianello, Tom Foster

The years spent at college are a time of growth, whether those years began at Central or elsewhere. No matter how long it took to obtain that degree or at what age the quest began, each individual changes in his or her own special way, modifying ideas, habits and viewpoints. These are changes that will be carried with each of us as we make our way through life beyond Central.

Learning . . . Doing . . . Growing. Together the class of 1981 has shared many unique experiences that will be relived in our memories for years to come.

The direction in which education starts a man will determine his future life.

Plato

Education is the one goal common to all who attend college. As we prepare for our respective careers, much more than mere job skills are learned. We gain insights into ourselves, others and the complex world in which we live. As knowledge grows, so do ideas, understanding and personal dreams, goals and worth. And behind the frustrations of papers and tests, behind the long hours spent in the library, studio or practice room is a community of students and professors dedicated to knowledge . . . to growth.

"Wherever you are it is your own friends who make your world."

William James

Obviously, life at Central was not totally dedicated to the pursuit of education; a vast amount of time and energy was spent with people—meeting them, exchanging ideas, sharing good times and bad . . . and sometimes, beginning lifelong friendships.

Friends . . . those special people who can make the pressures of marathon studying, impossible classes and unsympathetic professors seem bearable. They give us laughter, support, a chance to find ourselves . . . and to grow.

All experience is an arch, to build upon.

Henry Brooks Adams

A wide range of activities offered at Central provided students with an opportunity to be involved and meet people as well as a break from academic pressures. The Associated Students of Central and the Residence Hall Council sponsored entertainment such as the annual hump-bump-glunk day in the spring, river floats, guest speakers, weekend dances, and Thursday evening movies. Special homecoming activities included a run for fun, a parade through town and the usual Casino Royale dance and football game. Intramural sports furnished men and women with physical activity and competition while spiritual needs were met by various church groups. The drama, music and art departments allowed creative students to exhibit their talent to their peers and the community. Other departments also offered additional experience for interested students in a wide variety of clubs.

"No athlete is crowned but in the sweat of his brow."

St. Ambrose

Providing a chance for involvement by athletes and fans alike, sports have always played a major role in college life. As dedicated men and women devoted physical and emotional energy into their particular sport, others, watching from the sidelines, encouraged their best efforts. Fans supplied support and enthusiasm in what was a favorite Wildcat pastime. Growing in personal ability and pride, each athlete carried a sense of team comradeship that became an important part of their experience at Central; an experience which, for many, ended their athletic career.

"There is a past which is gone for ever; but there is a future which is still our own."

Edward Young
